INFFs provide a framework for financing sustainable development and the SDGs at the country level:

- INFFs help identify and implement policies and reforms to increase and better align financing toward the achievement of national sustainable development priorities;
- INFFs consider all types of finance – public, private, domestic, international – and provide a framework for enhancing their coherence for sustainable development;
- INFFs help formulate risk-informed financing strategies that can support countries recover from the COVID-19 pandemic and its economic fallout.

INFFs help policy makers:

- Mobilise additional financing to support sustainable development priorities;
- Improve alignment of different types of finance – domestic, international, public, private – with national priorities and needs, including development cooperation;
- Enhance coherence across different financing policies, aligning them to medium and long-term sustainable development priorities;
- Better manage risk and an increasingly complex financing landscape;
- Better articulate their needs to the international development community, thus enhancing their voice in global policy processes;
- Streamline the wide variety of tools offered by the international community to support national action.
Toward effectively resourced sustainable development priorities

Countries are not starting from scratch. INFFs should be embedded within and strengthen existing institutions and processes, and will thus differ depending on country circumstances and needs. Common elements include:

Assessments and Diagnostics to:

- Estimate financing needs
- Analyse financing trends – volumes and impact
- Understand risk landscape and assess resilience
- Determine major impediments to effective and efficient financing of national development priorities

An inception phase to:

- Scope existing financing policies, strategies and trends
- Identify relevant stakeholders (state and non-state)
- Establish an oversight mechanism to guide the INFF process
- Agree an ‘INFF roadmap’

Governance and coordination mechanisms to:

- Establish and maintain political backing and leadership
- Ensure country ownership
- Facilitate participation of all relevant stakeholders
- Overcome silos and enhance integration across stakeholders, sectors, and financing policy areas
- Drive effective INFF design and implementation

A Financing Strategy to:

- Find solutions to close financing gaps, overcome constraints and make the most of financing opportunities
- Identify financing policies that are risk-informed and take equity, social and environmental concerns into account, addressing potential spill-over effects and trade-offs

Ongoing Monitoring and Review to:

- Track financing trends (volumes and contributions to sustainable development)
- Assess progress in the implementation of the financing strategy
- Feed lessons from policy implementation back to policy design
- Support dynamic and responsive policy-making

- Data on volumes and impact of different types of finance
- Lessons learned and insight into what works and what doesn’t in INFF design and implementation

- An action plan for implementation of chosen financing policy solutions
- A nationally-led strategy for anchoring support of development partners
- A strategy to bring together all areas of financing policy (public, private, macro) in line with national priorities

Effectively resourced sustainable development priorities
To ensure national ownership and sustainability:
- Build support from the highest level of government, complemented by leadership at a senior technical level
- Engage legislature, the private sector, civil society, development partners and other relevant stakeholders to create broad-based buy-in

To ensure effective implementation:
- Ensure national governments are in the lead throughout the process (with development partners providing technical assistance and helping to convene stakeholders)
- Take a gradual, targeted and adaptive approach to prioritize policy actions and remain responsive to changing circumstances
- Build, where possible, on existing coordination, dialogue and reform processes

Key lessons from early implementers of INFFs

A growing community of practice

Stakeholders around the world are working to develop and implement INFFs within their countries. A global Knowledge Platform provides a digital space for this growing Community of Practice to share information, connect with other INFF stakeholders, and bring together new knowledge from around the globe.
